1. Aims

The aims of relationships education at Medlock Primary School are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place:
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy:
- Create a positive platform for open discussions about the nature of relationships, their purpose and the roles taken in them:
- Understand and recognise the many forms a relationship can take:
- Understand all relationships are mutual and consensual:
- Place relationships within the context of the Medlock School Expectations:
- Discuss relationships within the context of the 5 British Values.

2. Statutory requirements

As a maintained primary school we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

In teaching Relationships Education, we must have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At Medlock Primary School we teach Relationships Education as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

Review – a working group pulled together all relevant information including relevant national and local guidance.

Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations.

Parent / Stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to attend a meeting about the policy.

Pupil consultation – we investigated what exactly pupils want from their RSE.

Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified.

4. Definition

Relationships Education looks at relationships. In particular;

- Nature of relationships

- Different forms of relationship
- Relationships in the context of British Values and Human Rights legislation
- Consent
- Self Esteem

Relationships education involves a combination of sharing information and exploring issues and values.

Relationships education does not promote any relationship form.

Relationships education is designed to reflect the diversity of our school community.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

We have developed the curriculum in consultation with parents, pupils and staff, taking into account the age, needs and feelings of pupils. If pupils ask questions outside the scope of this policy, teachers will respond in an appropriate manner so they are fully informed and don't seek answers online.

6. Delivery of Relationships Education

Relationships Education is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Family structures, marriages and civil partnerships
- Being safe

For more information about our RSE curriculum, see Appendices 1 and 2.

7. Roles and responsibilities
